Christmas Morning

Dear Journal,

I awoke this morning with joy bursting in my heart; I am alive! The Spirits have shown me what I was, what I am, and what I yet might be, and I am determined to change. Never again shall I say "Bah! Humbug!" to Christmas, for I know now it means kindness, generosity, and love. Today I will send the Cratchits a great turkey, and I will treat Bob as a friend, not a burden. I promise to honor Christmas in my heart and keep it all the year. From this day forward, I will live as a man who blesses others, as I myself have been blessed with a second chance.
