

From Boring to Epic Answer Key

Neutral Passage 1: "It was raining outside."

- Zombie: "The sky weeps... drip, drop... more noise while I shuffle for flesh."
- Knight: "The heavens unleash their arrows of water upon the land, but I stand firm in my armor!"
- Mad Scientist: "Yes! Perfect conditions for lightning! The rain shall fuel my greatest experiment yet!"

Neutral Passage 2: "I lost my book."

- Zombie: "Uhhh... paper food... gone... must find more pages to chew."
- Knight: "Alas! My sacred tome of wisdom has vanished, a betrayal most grave!"
- Mad Scientist: "No, no, no! My calculations, my formulas-gone! Without that book, my genius crumbles!"

Neutral Passage 3: "The dog barked loudly."

- Zombie: "Grrr... beast's noise hurts rotten ears. Must silence it... or feast on it."
- Knight: "The hound bellowed a noble cry, as though announcing the arrival of battle!"
- Mad Scientist: "Ha! Just as expected! The creature responds precisely to my sonic stimulator device!"