Directions: You've seen how acronyms like NASA or LOL stand for longer phrases—but now it's your turn to create your own! Use the given sets of letters to invent new acronyms that could realistically exist in real life. Each acronym should form a phrase that makes sense in meaning and context.

- Example Letter Set: ZAP
- Possible Acronym: Zero Accident Program – a safety plan for schools and factories.

Your Turn: Create a phrase for each letter set below that could become a believable acronym. Each one should sound like it belongs in a real-world setting (business, school, science, etc.).

1. FLO

2. BITE

3. SPARK

4. WING

5. CORE

6. GLOW

7. TEAM
