Teacher's Guide

Skill Focus: Builds awareness of how behavior should change across settings by practicing situational decision-making.

Differentiation Tips:

- Read each scenario aloud and discuss choices before students answer.
- Use visual cards to represent places (library, cafeteria, classroom) for students needing extra support.
- Allow students to explain their answer choices to promote verbal reasoning.

Engagement Ideas:

- Have students act out each correct response as short role-plays.
- Create a "Good Choice Corner" bulletin board where students post examples of right-place reactions from their own day.

Extension Ideas:

- Add community settings such as the park, grocery store, or doctor's office.
- Encourage students to write their own scenario and answer choices to share with the class.
