Teacher's Guide

Skill Focus: Helps students recognize and adapt their behavior to fit formal and informal settings using a relatable classroom-to-party contrast.

Differentiation Tips:

- Read the passage aloud and pause to discuss tone changes between scenes.
- Highlight or underline context clues that show behavior differences.
- For emerging readers, provide picture cues showing "classroom" vs. "party" behavior.

Engagement Ideas:

- Have students act out both "class" and "party" scenes to model behavior changes.
- Let students create a short skit showing how they adapt behavior in other settings (library, playground, assembly).

Extension Ideas:

- Ask students to write or draw about another time they needed to change their behavior based on where they were.
- Create a classroom chart titled "Right Behavior, Right Place" where students can add examples throughout the week.
