Name _____

Interchanging All And Whole

Directions: Read each short passage. Rewrite it by replacing all with whole or whole with all wherever possible without changing the overall meaning too much. Then briefly explain how the tone, focus, or meaning shifts.

1. All the students in the art club stayed after school to finish their mural. They spent all afternoon painting bright colors across the wall. When they were done, the teacher said it was one of the best projects the school had ever seen.

   _____

   _____

   _____

2. The whole town came together after the storm to rebuild homes and clear the streets. Everyone brought tools, food, and helping hands. By evening, the whole neighborhood looked alive again.

   _____

   _____

   _____

3. I spent all my money on tickets to see my favorite band. The concert was worth every cent. I danced and sang for the whole night, not wanting it to end.

   _____

   _____

   _____

4. The whole team celebrated when they heard they had won the championship. They cheered, hugged, and took pictures together. It felt like all their hard work had finally paid off.

   _____

   _____

   _____