Teacher's Guide

Skill Focus: Teaching accountability, empathy, and positive conflict resolution through the act of apologizing and making amends.

Differentiation Tips:

- Read the passage aloud or use role-play to support comprehension.
- Highlight emotion words to help students recognize feelings.
- Allow written, verbal, or drawn responses depending on student needs.

Engagement Ideas:

- Have students act out the story using classroom props to reinforce the concept of accountability.
- Use sentence starters like "I'm sorry for..." or "Next time I will..." for guided practice.

Extension Activities:

- Ask students to write their own short story about a time they apologized and fixed a mistake.
- Create a class "Problem-Solvers Wall" where students share examples of taking responsibility and making things right.
