Sample Rewritten Dialogue

Friend: "Socrates, aren't you embarrassed that the way you live is going to get you killed sooner than later?"

Socrates: "You've got it wrong, my friend. If someone has real worth, they don't waste time worrying about whether they live or die. What matters is only this: are they doing what's right, or are they doing what's wrong? Are they being a good person, or a bad one?"
