

Name _____

Answer Key: What's the Claim? What's the Evidence?

1.Claim: Fast food should be limited in schools.

Evidence: A recent study found that students who eat fast food three or more times a week perform worse in math and reading.

2. Claim: School buses should be electric.

Evidence: Electric buses produce 60% less pollution than diesel ones and cost less to maintain over time.

3. Claim: Kids should not be required to do chores every day.

Evidence: Many child development experts argue that free time is important for creativity and emotional health.