Teacher's Guide:

- Differentiation Tips: Read each question aloud for students who benefit from auditory processing. Provide visual picture cues (icons of teacher, friend, janitor, parent) for emerging readers. For higher-level students, have them explain why their answer fits best.
- Engagement Strategies: Use role-play to act out each scenario, letting students decide in real time who to ask for help. Reinforce the difference between school helpers and home helpers.
- Extension Ideas: Have students write their own "Who to Ask?" scenarios about real-life problems. Collect them into a class-made booklet titled "Knowing Who to Ask for Help."
