Teacher's Guide

- Provide a quick review of what a beginning blend is before students start. Model reading a blend aloud, such as bl or st.
- For students who need support, read each row aloud slowly and emphasize the blend at the start of each correct word.
- For students who need a challenge, ask them to create one new word for each blend after finishing.
- To build engagement, turn the worksheet into a partner activity where students check each other's circled answers and explain why each word does or does not match the blend.
