Teacher's Guide

- Differentiation: If students need support, remind them that a real word is a word we can use to name something, do something, or describe something. For students who are ready, have them use each real rhyming pair in a spoken sentence.
- Engagement: Read the first word, then let the class say the rhyming word together. Students show a thumbs up for real and a flat hand for silly, then circle.
- Extension: Students pick two silly words and try to invent a quick meaning for each one, then draw a small picture to match their made-up idea.
