Teacher's Guide

- Differentiation: For students who need support, say each pair slowly and have them repeat just the ending sounds (at, un, og). For students who are ready, have them explain why a pair is red by naming which sounds are different.
- Engagement: Make it a quick game: hold up a green paper for rhyme and a red paper for not rhyme; students copy your choice before coloring.
- Extension: Students choose two green pairs and draw a simple picture for each word, then say the rhymes aloud to a partner or caregiver.
