Teacher's Guide

- Encourage students to identify which sound is missing before writing the letter, reinforcing the long vowel created by the silent e pattern.
- Offer a sound box or finger-tapping routine for students who need more phonemic support when determining the missing letter.
- Allow students who finish early to draw pictures for three of the completed words or use them in short sentences.
- Provide differentiated word lists with either easier patterns or more complex CVCe clusters depending on student needs.
