Riddles in the Chocolate Factory

Directions: Below are riddles describing key characters from the story. Read each riddle carefully and decide which character it is about. Write the name of the character on the line provided.

Some riddles may be trickier than others, so think about the characters' personalities, habits, and fates inside the factory.

1. I own a factory, shiny and grand,
With secret rooms and sweets unplanned.
My top hat twinkles, my cane taps too,
A world of candy I open for you.
Who am I? _____

2. I'm poor but kind, with dreams so bright,
A golden ticket brings delight.
Chocolate is my dearest treat,
At the end, the factory becomes my seat.
Who am I? _____

3. Television keeps me day and night,
Westerns and cowboys are my delight.
Shrunk down small, my fate was rough,
For watching TV, I've had enough!
Who am I? _____

4. I chew all day, I cannot stop,
Gum is my prize, I'll chomp and pop.
Turned violet, round and wide,
I learned that greed can't hide inside.
Who am I? _____

5. Chocolate rivers make me swoon,
I gobble treats morning, night, and noon.
But greed led me to take a fall,
A pipe was waiting after all.
Who am I? _____

6. I'm spoiled rotten, used to my way,
I scream and pout if I don't get my say.
Squirrels judged me, tossed me down,
No longer princess, I lost my crown.
Who am I? _____
