Teacher's Guide

- Quick implementation: Review the example and emphasize that the decimal portion is written as a fraction over 100.
- Differentiation: Begin with amounts under $100 for students who need additional support before moving to larger amounts.
- Differentiation: Allow students to say each whole-dollar amount aloud before writing it in words.
- Engagement: Have partners take turns reading completed written amounts while the other partner identifies the matching numeric amount.
- Extension: Ask students to create three monetary amounts and write each one correctly in check format.
