Tune In Like a Scientist

Observe conversations like a pro, catch important details, and respond in a way that shows you're truly tuned in. Good listening is more than being quiet—it's about remembering, understanding, and responding with care.

Listening Clues - Each scientist overheard a short conversation. Read each one carefully, then answer the questions to prove you were actively listening.

Sasha: "I'm a little nervous about my presentation tomorrow. I don't like speaking in front of the class."

Q1: Why is Sasha feeling nervous?

Q2: What could you say to show you're listening and being supportive?

Eli: "I built the tallest Lego tower ever this weekend. It was taller than my dog!"

Q3: What did Eli build?

Q4: What fun question could you ask Eli to keep the conversation going?

Talia: "My grandma is visiting from another state. She makes the best pancakes!"

Q5: Who is visiting Talia?

Q6: What comment could you make that shows you were listening?
