Circle the Demonstratives

Directions: Read the passage below carefully. As you read, circle every demonstrative pronoun you find (this, that, these, those).

Last weekend, I went hiking with my friends in the forest. At the trailhead, we saw a big sign that warned us about bears. "Look at this picture of a bear!" my friend shouted. We laughed, but we still walked carefully.

As we climbed higher, we noticed wildflowers blooming along the path. "Smell these blossoms," I said. They were so bright and colorful. A little further up, we pointed to a tall tree and whispered, "Do you hear that strange sound?" Suddenly, a woodpecker flew out, and we all sighed in relief.

At the top of the hill, we stopped to enjoy the view. From there, we could see rivers, mountains, and valleys. "All of those hills look like giant waves," my friend said. "Let's take a picture so we remember this day forever."
