Teacher's Guide

- Purpose: Help high school students practice recognizing patient behaviors in realistic, everyday situations.
- Differentiation Tips:
 - Read each scenario aloud and discuss each option before students choose answers.
 - Simplify vocabulary (e.g., "follow-up" or "frustration") as needed for comprehension.
- Engagement Ideas:
 - Have students act out each scenario with two possible reactions (patient vs. impatient).
 - Encourage peer discussions about how patience can lead to better outcomes in school, work, and relationships.
- Extension Activities:
 - Ask students to write one additional scenario and create their own multiple-choice responses.
 - Reflect as a class: "Which scenario was hardest for you to stay patient in, and why?"
