Rewrite & Rethink

Directions: Read the passage carefully. A Literal question is provided for you. Your task is to rewrite it two more times:

- First, as an Inferential question (requires reading between the lines).
- Second, as an Evaluative question (requires opinion/judgment or connecting beyond the text).

After rewriting, answer all three versions of the question in complete sentences.

Every summer, Maya visited her uncle's farm in the countryside. She loved waking up to the sound of roosters and watching the sun rise over the fields. Her uncle taught her how to gather eggs, feed the goats, and even ride the old tractor. At night, the family would sit on the porch, listening to crickets and telling stories.

One evening, Maya asked her uncle why he chose to stay on the farm instead of moving to the city. He replied, "The farm gives me peace. Here, I can see the results of my work and feel close to nature." Maya thought about his words as she looked out at the fields glowing in the moonlight, realizing how different life on the farm was from her own in the busy city.

Starting Literal Question: Where did Maya spend her summers?

1. Inferential question: _____
2. Evaluative question: _____
3. Answer all three questions:

1. Literal:
2. Inferential:
3. Evaluative:
