On the first snowy morning of winter break, Maya and her cousins hurried outside to enjoy the fresh air. They built a small snow town with little pretend houses and a brown snow cow in the middle. Maya's brother found a shiny coin in the soil near the porch and showed it to everyone with joy. When the wind blew loudly, a tiny mouse ran out from behind a toy sled and disappeared under a cloud of powdery snow.

1. What did the children build outside?

2. What did Maya's brother find?

3. Where did the mouse run from?
