Emotions In Echo

Directions: Listen as your teacher (or partner) reads each line aloud. Echo the line back using the same words but a chosen emotion: happy, sad, excited, or scared. Pay attention to how your tone, pitch, and pace change when your emotion changes.

Practice Lines (The Forest Adventure)

1. The path wound deeper into the shadowy forest.
2. A tiny rabbit darted quickly across the trail.
3. The trees whispered as the wind moved through their branches.
4. Suddenly, a branch snapped behind me.
5. I took a deep breath and stepped forward.
6. Then, a stream appeared, sparkling in the sunlight.
7. My heart raced as I reached the edge of the clearing.
8. "What will I find beyond the trees?" I wondered aloud.

Reflection Questions

1. Which emotion was the easiest for you to show in your voice?
2. Which emotion was the most challenging, and why?
3. How did the story feel different when read with different emotions?
4. Why is it important for readers to be able to change expression when they read?
