The Homophone Trap

Directions: Read the passage carefully. Some words are spelled correctly but are the wrong homophone for the sentence (examples: their/there/they're, your/you're, two/too/to, its/it's, here/hear). Circle each mistake and write the correct replacement word above it. Then, rewrite the corrected passage on the lines provided.

Yesterday, Mia and Oliver packed there bags because they're going on a trip.

First, they went to the train station, but they got lost because the directions weren't clear. "I think your standing on the wrong platform," Mia said. "No, I'm sure we're right over hear," Oliver replied. When the train arrived, its whistle was very loud, and Mia said, "Wow, that sound is way to sharp for my ears." Finally, they found they're seats and settled in, excited to start there journey.
