Teacher's Guide

- Differentiation Tips

- For students who need extra support, say each base word aloud and emphasize the missing final sound so they can listen for the correct blend.
- Provide a small reference chart of common ending blends for early readers.
- Challenge advanced learners by having them generate additional words using each blend.

- Engagement Ideas

- After drawing lines, have students read each completed word to a partner in a quick word-share routine.
- Turn it into a movement activity by placing blend cards around the room and letting students walk to the correct match.

- Extension Activities

- Invite students to write one sentence using any two of the completed words.
- Let students sort words by blend type in small groups for added practice.
