Teacher's Guide

- Skill Focus: Recognizing nonverbal social cues that indicate when it's appropriate to join a group activity.
- Differentiation Tips:
  - Highlight key phrases (smile, made space, invited) for emerging readers.
  - Offer guided reading support or use visual cue cards showing expressions and gestures.
  - For students needing extra support, discuss cues before reading.
- Engagement Ideas:
  - Have students act out group situations using smiles, gestures, and tone to signal openness.
  - Use classroom examples-such as joining lunch groups or study teams-to model real-life relevance.
- Extension Ideas:
  - Ask students to write or draw a short story showing positive cues for joining a group.
  - Create a "Social Cue Wall" where students display examples of welcoming and unwelcoming cues.
