The Town Parade

Every spring, the people of Riverton hold a colorful parade down Main Street. Children decorate bicycles with ribbons and bells, while marching bands play lively music. Local businesses design floats to showcase their shops, tossing candy to the cheering crowd.

This year, the mayor led the event, waving to the families lined along the sidewalks. A group of students carried a giant paper dragon that twisted and danced through the air. At the end of the parade, everyone gathered in the park for food stands, games, and a fireworks display. The celebration lasted well into the evening, bringing the whole community together in joy.
