Club Meeting Rewrite

Directions: Read the short conversation below. It includes examples of rule-breaking or inappropriate group behavior. Then rewrite the conversation to show respectful, group-appropriate communication.

Setting: A school club meeting where students are planning a charity event.

Liam: Ugh, this meeting is so boring. Why do we even need to plan anything?

Ava: Because we said we would! Can you stop complaining for once?

Noah: Whatever, I'm just going to text my friends instead.

Jordan: You're both making this take longer. Just let me do everything since no one cares anyway.

Your Task: Rewrite the script so that each person communicates in a way that shows respect, cooperation, and focus on group goals. You can change the words but keep the same characters and situation.
