Directions: Read the informal blog post below. The writer mixed up for and since in several places. Carefully edit the paragraph to fix all the time preposition errors. Rewrite the corrected version on the lines below the passage.

Hey everyone! I've been obsessed with skateboarding since two years now, and I can't imagine a day without it. My friends and I have practiced tricks for last summer, and we've gotten so much better. I've had this same skateboard for 2021, and it's still in good shape. My brother, who's also a skater, has joined me since the beginning of this school year. We've been filming our videos since a few months, and I plan to post them soon.
