

Name _____

Respectful Recognition Answer Key

1. It builds trust, motivation, and teamwork.
2. Effort, skill, or attitude rather than appearance.
3. Because genuine praise makes people feel respected and valued.
4. Saying something like "Thank you" or "I appreciate that."
5. They encourage positive communication and cooperation.
6. Answers will vary. Example: "You handled that discussion very calmly."
7. Answers will vary. Example: "I feel proud and confident; it reminds me to encourage others too."

Teacher's Guide:

- Read the passage aloud and discuss examples of compliments that sound natural versus awkward or insincere.
- Encourage students to connect to personal experiences, such as compliments they've received in class, work, or online.
- For differentiation, provide a sentence frame bank (e.g., "I like how you __," "You did a great job at __").
- Extension idea: Have students write a short reflection paragraph on how positive communication could help them in future career or interview situations.