4. "You have a great sense of style."
5. "You always participate and share thoughtful answers."
6. "You express your ideas clearly and confidently."
7. "You do great work that inspires others."
8. "You bring a lot of skill to our team."
9. "You put in strong effort on that project."
10. "You have impressive skills and dedication."

Teacher's Guide:

- Model examples of appropriate vs. inappropriate compliments before the activity.
- Discuss how compliments should focus on effort, attitude, or skill rather than appearance or comparison.
- For differentiation, provide sentence starters such as "I like how you..." or "You did a great job at..."
- Extension idea: Have students role-play giving and receiving their rewritten compliments to practice tone and body language.
