

Name _____

Interconnected World

Directions: Read the passage below about globalization and fill in each blank with the correct missing word. Use context clues to determine which word best completes each sentence.

In today's world, (1)_____ moves faster than ever before. Thanks to digital technology, people on opposite sides of the planet can communicate instantly through messages, video calls, and social media. This speed of communication has helped businesses expand and has made international (2)_____ a normal part of daily life.

Container ships, airplanes, and online marketplaces allow products from one country to be sold in another within days. A shirt designed in Italy might be manufactured in Bangladesh and sold in the United States-all part of the global (3)_____ system. This system depends heavily on cooperation and international agreements that reduce (4)_____ barriers such as taxes or import limits.

However, globalization is not just about money and goods. It also spreads (5)_____, languages, and traditions between nations. People around the world can now stream movies, follow world news, or enjoy foods that once existed only in specific regions. These connections build understanding but can also cause (6)_____, as local cultures adapt to outside influences.

Technology continues to shape globalization. The rise of artificial intelligence, renewable energy, and digital currencies is changing how societies (7)_____ and interact. Some experts believe that cooperation through technology could help solve global challenges like climate change and inequality, while others worry about the (8)_____ between nations that have more access to these tools and those that do not.

Globalization remains a powerful force that links humanity through trade, technology, and shared experience-proving that our planet is more (9)_____ than ever before.