The New Teammate

Diego loved playing soccer and always wanted to score the winning goal. At practice, he often kept the ball to himself instead of passing. One day, his coach stopped the game and said, "Soccer is about teamwork, not just one player."

At first, Diego felt frustrated. But during the next scrimmage, he noticed that when he passed the ball to his teammates, they had better chances to score. In the final play, Diego passed to Malik, who kicked the ball into the net. The whole team cheered, and Diego realized that winning felt even better when everyone worked together.
