Directions: Read the short story below. Then circle the letter of the best answer (A-D) for each question.

It was the last day of the school art fair. Maya's project had fallen apart just before the judges arrived. She felt a small wave of panic rise in her chest. Her classmate, Leo, noticed and quietly offered to help fix it. Together, they taped and glued the pieces back into place. When the judges stopped by, Maya's project looked as good as new. She smiled at Leo and said, "Thank you. I couldn't have done it without you." Inside, she felt a warm, glowing feeling of gratitude.
