Teacher's Guide

- Ask students to underline clues such as "fixed amount," "percentage," and "paid regularly" before matching.
- For extra support, review premium, deductible, copay, and coinsurance with simple dollar examples first.
- For a challenge, have students explain the difference between a copay and coinsurance in one sentence.
- Increase engagement by having pairs compare answers and justify any matches they chose differently.
- As an extension, give students a fictional insurance plan and ask them to identify which terms apply to different medical expenses.
