Directions: Read the paragraph below. Then rewrite it by changing every sentence that uses I to use me, and every sentence that uses me to use I. Be sure to adjust the sentence structure so it remains grammatically correct.

When I walked into the rehearsal room, everyone waved at me. The director told I to take my place on stage, but I was still nervous. My friend handed me a script and whispered that I would do great. During the performance, the spotlight shone right on me, and I tried to remember every line. When the final scene ended, the audience cheered for me, and I finally felt proud of my hard work.
