Context Clues in the Passage:

- Jonas has an important envelope he promised to deliver.
- He notices a nervous man in a gray coat arriving on the train.
- The storm adds tension and urgency.
- Jonas feels that his choice to act will have major consequences.

Possible Predictions (Accept Multiple Reasonable Answers):

- Jonas gives the envelope to the man in the gray coat.
- Jonas hesitates, and the man leaves before he can act.
- Someone else tries to take the envelope.
- The storm disrupts the meeting, forcing Jonas to find another way.

Sample Student Explanations:

- "I drew Jonas handing the envelope to the man in the gray coat because the passage says he promised to deliver it."
- "I predicted Jonas might wait too long and miss his chance because he was nervous and unsure."
- "The storm could interrupt him, so I drew lightning striking near the platform."

Teacher Notes:

- The focus is on using text clues to make a logical prediction, not on art skills.
- Encourage creativity but require that predictions are supported by evidence in the passage.
- In evaluation, check that the explanation ties the drawing back to the details of mood, action, or character choices in the text.
