Teacher's Guide

- Differentiation Tips:
  - Provide a short vocabulary list or word bank for students who need additional support.
  - Encourage advanced students to write a short summary paragraph using all ten completed sentences.
  - For English learners, discuss the meaning of complex terms like reform and assembly line before beginning.
- Engagement Ideas:
  - Read the sentences aloud and have students shout out possible answers before writing them down.
  - Use images of factories, steam engines, and tenements to spark discussion about how life changed.
- Extension Activities:
  - Have students write a short "before and after" comparison of life before and during the Industrial Revolution.
  - Connect the lesson to modern examples of technological change that affect how people live and work today.
