

Electric Connections Answer Key

Sample Responses

- Text-to-Self Connection: I remember seeing a charging station at a shopping mall near my house, which connects to the idea of public charging stations in the passage.
- Text-to-Text Connection: This reminds me of a magazine article I read about Tesla and how the company is trying to make electric cars more affordable.
- Text-to-World Connection: Many countries are discussing ways to reduce climate change, and electric cars connect to this global issue because they reduce pollution and greenhouse gas emissions.

Teacher Notes:

- Accept a wide range of answers; students' responses will vary based on personal experiences and prior knowledge.
- Encourage complete sentences that clearly explain the connection, not just single words.
- For advanced learners, ask them to expand by explaining why the connection matters.
