

Intensify the Paragraph Answer Key

Sample Insertions

Paragraph 1 (Sample)

Yesterday, our class prepared for the science fair. I myself designed the poster. The teacher herself explained the rules to the group. The students themselves organized the tables and set up the displays. The principal herself visited and announced the winners.

Paragraph 2 (Sample)

Last weekend, we cleaned the park after the festival. We ourselves picked up trash and recycled bottles. The mayor herself came to thank the volunteers. The children themselves planted flowers near the playground. Even the dog itself ran around happily.

Teacher Notes / Guide

- Students don't need to match the answer key word-for-word; any logical, correctly used intensive pronoun earns credit.
- Remind students: If the pronoun can be removed without changing the basic meaning, it's intensive.
- Encourage students to read both versions aloud to hear the added emphasis.
- Extension: Have students write their own short paragraph and then revise it with intensives for emphasis.
