Fair Work Matters

Directions: Read each scenario below. Decide if it shows a fair or unfair workplace situation.

_____ 1. A worker at a grocery store is told they must work 14 hours straight with no breaks or meals.

_____ 2. An employee who has worked for five years receives a raise after helping train new coworkers.

_____ 3. A worker is told they can't join a labor union or talk to others about work conditions.

_____ 4. A new employee is given proper safety gear and training before using machinery.

_____ 5. A manager gives promotions only to their friends, even when others work harder.

_____ 6. Workers are allowed to take paid sick days when they are ill.

_____ 7. A teenager is hired to work in a factory using dangerous machines without supervision.

_____ 8. A team of workers is asked for feedback on how to make their jobs safer and easier.

Reflection Question: Why is it important for workers to have fair rights and protections at their jobs? Write a short paragraph explaining your thoughts.
