Answer Key: Sample Paragraphs

Sample for: Why recess is an important part of the school day

Recess is an important part of the school day because it gives kids a chance to relax and recharge. After sitting in class for a long time, students need time to move around and get fresh air. Recess also helps kids build friendships and learn how to play together. Physical activity during recess can make it easier to focus when students go back to class. That's why having recess every day is so helpful for students' minds and bodies.
