Story 1: “The Note in the Locker” (Mystery) - Jordan always followed the same routine-locker, class, lunch, repeat. But today, something changed. When he opened locker #118, a folded piece of paper fluttered out. It wasn’t his handwriting. The note read:

“They know. Meet me under the bleachers before practice. Don’t tell anyone.”

He looked around. No one was near. Who were “they”? And what did they know?

Your Ending Prediction: What happens when Jordan goes to meet the mystery person? Who wrote the note, and what do they want?

Story 2: “The Shortcut” (Adventure)

Nina was running late. Again. She glanced at the time and realized she’d never make it to school before the bell. That’s when she remembered what her older brother once said:

“There’s a shortcut through the woods... but don’t use it unless you’re really desperate.”

Well, she was. She pushed through the old wooden gate at the edge of the field and stepped into the trees. The path was narrow and overgrown. Then she noticed something strange-her watch stopped ticking, and the birds had gone silent.

Your Ending Prediction: What does Nina find in the woods? Why did her brother warn her about it?
