Instructions - Read each scenario carefully. Think about how the person in the situation might feel and respond. Write your predicted reaction in 1–3 sentences using logical inference.

Scenario 1: The Broken Vase

Jason just came home from school and accidentally knocked over a vase in the hallway, shattering it. His mom had said it was a family heirloom from her grandmother.

What reaction do you predict Jason will have?

Scenario 2: The Surprise Grade

Leah studied all week for a math test she thought was impossible. When she got the results back, she had earned a perfect score—something she's never done before.

What reaction do you predict Leah will have?

Scenario 3: The Left-Out Invite

Daniel found out that several of his classmates went to a movie over the weekend—without inviting him. He had considered those kids to be his friends.

What reaction do you predict Daniel will have?
