Name _____

Copilot, Quiz Me If You Can!

Ever wish studying could feel less like a chore and more like a challenge? Meet your new study partner: Microsoft Copilot. Today, you'll train it to be your personal AI Study Coach. Choose one topic you've been learning - maybe the water cycle, the Civil War, fractions, or anything you need to review. Open Copilot and type: "Quiz me with five multiple-choice questions about [your topic]."

Once Copilot gives you the quiz, write down each question and your answers on this page. Don't check the answers right away - give yourself a fair shot first. When you're done, ask Copilot to show the correct answers, then see how well you did. Think about what you missed, what you knew, and how helpful Copilot's questions were. This is your chance to practice being both a learner and a fact-checker.

Step 1: Setting Up Your Study Session - What topic did you choose to review, and why did you pick it? Write a few sentences explaining your choice and what you hope to learn or remember.

Your Response: _____

_____

Step 2: Copilot's Questions - Write down the five questions Copilot asked you. Under each one, include your answer, Copilot's correct answer, and a short note about how close you were or what you learned from it.

Question 1:

My answer: _____   Copilot's answer: _____

What I learned: _____

Question 2:

My answer: _____   Copilot's answer: _____

What I learned: _____

Question 3:

My answer: _____   Copilot's answer: _____

What I learned: _____

Question 4:

My answer: _____   Copilot's answer: _____

What I learned: _____

Name _____

Question 5:

My answer: _____ Copilot's answer: _____

What I learned: _____

Step 3: Reflecting on the Experience - Now that you've finished, think about how this activity helped you study and what you discovered about using AI to learn.

What surprised you most about Copilot's questions or answers?

_____

_____

Which question challenged you the most, and why?

_____

_____

Did Copilot's questions match what you learned in class? How could they be improved?

_____

_____

What did you notice about your own study habits through this process?

_____

_____

How could you use Copilot differently next time to study more effectively?

_____

_____

_____