Directions: Read the short narrative below. Rewrite it from a different point of view. Choose either first-person, third-person limited, or third-person omniscient. Make sure your version clearly matches the point of view you selected.

Original Narrative (Third-Person Limited):

Jordan hurried toward the library doors as the clouds grew darker. He hoped he could return his books before the storm started. As he stepped inside, he noticed a strange humming sound coming from the far corner of the room, but he could not tell what it was.
