Teacher's Guide

- Quick implementation: Review the account rule before students begin. Emphasize that "completed" means posted, while "processing" and "awaiting completion" mean pending.
- Differentiation: Have students underline each status note first, then use the account rule to classify the transaction.
- Engagement: Let students act as online account reviewers deciding which transactions have officially reached the account.
- Extension: Ask students to list all posted transactions and explain why the pending transactions are not included in the stated current balance.
