Teacher's Guide

- Quick implementation: Review the five safety rules before students classify the alerts. Ask students to identify the specific clue that supports each answer.
- Differentiation: Have students underline phrases such as "you made," "you scheduled," "unexpected," "unfamiliar," and "did not make."
- Engagement: Present students as digital account monitors responsible for flagging alerts that need attention.
- Extension: Have students choose three suspicious alerts and write one safe next step for each, such as checking the official banking app or contacting the bank through a trusted method.
