1. Summary

- Sample Answer: Samir enjoyed folding paper boats and met a younger boy who was watching him. He gave the boy a boat, and together they sailed them in the stream. They laughed, played, and by the end, Samir promised to teach the boy more. This simple moment began a new friendship.
- Teacher Note: Summaries should be short, cover main events (meeting, sharing boat, friendship), and avoid unimportant details.

2. Reflection

- Sample Answer: This story shows how kindness can start friendships. It reminds me that small actions, like sharing, can make people feel welcome. I liked that Samir was generous without expecting anything in return.
- Teacher Note: Reflections should show personal thinking, connection, or lesson. Accept varied answers as long as they go beyond retelling.
