Cohesion Patrol

Directions: Read the paragraph. Underline the sentence that breaks the logical flow. Then rewrite the paragraph with a fix that restores clear connection between ideas.

Camping in the mountains teaches people how to prepare for different types of weather. Many hikers learn to pack layers of clothing, sturdy boots, and emergency supplies. The tall pine trees in the mountains can reach up to two hundred feet high. Good preparation helps campers stay safe, comfortable, and confident on long trips.
