A Quick Decision

Directions: Read the scene style prompt below. Write a polished personal narrative scene that focuses on one meaningful moment, using vivid details, reflection, and clear purpose.

Write a scene from your real life when you were placed in a situation that required you to make a quick decision. Focus on the specific moment itself instead of summarizing a long period of time. Describe the setting, your actions, and the key sensory details that made the moment feel important. Then show what you realized or understood because of that experience. Your goal is to create a focused, well-crafted scene that reveals something meaningful about who you are. Write at least two well-developed paragraphs.
